JUDGE WM. B. SNELL.

A Short Biographical Sketch
of the Judge of the Police
Court--Busy Life as a Lawyer,
a Soldier and a Judge.
Leaving the executive and legislative branches of the government, our portrait gallery to-day presents the features of a well-known local representative of the judiciary in the person of Hon. William B. Snell, judge of the Police Court of the District. His name and fame are almost household words in the District, but his features are not so well known, except among the evil doers who, because of their offences have good reason to remember his appearance. And then again, though, he has been a resident of the District for the past ten years, the public at large are still unacquainted with his previous history.

When he first received the appointment here he was described in the local press at the time as a blacksmith, a woodchopper, and in fact everything but what he really was. There was some feeling against him then because he was brought from an outside state to accept a position in the District, but this manner of disposing of District offices has since become so common, that Judge Snell's importation, which was no fault of his own, has been more than forgiven and has by many persons interested in the proper administration of local criminal justice, even been looked upon as a blessing in disguise.
His administration has been most satisfactory. Several of his judgments have been severely criticised, it is true, but impartial consideration and careful weighing of the evidence submitted has almost invariably sustained his view of the disputed cases. Very few of his judgments appealed to the higher courts have been overruled, and in many cases the punishment has been increased either by a larger fine or increased imprisonment. Judge Snell has a genial and happy disposition and has made many friends in social circles. He does not always wear a pleasant smile on the bench, but it could hardly be expected he would when dealing with some of the aggravated cases that come before him. His legal learning has a wide range and his ability as a jurist acknowledged.

Brook's annual report showed 12,610 arrests. In 1879 the cases tried in this court were over 10,000. In 1880 the cases tried will be less than 7,000. The amount of fines imposed during the last year aggregated $34,978, of which $14,640 were collected. The balance of $20,338 was not paid, because of the poverty of the convicts, and was satisfied by their service in the jail or workhouse. Judge Snell is a great student, and may always be found in his well-furnished library counting the pages of the newest books and most recent reports. The administration of his trying position has been uniformly efficient and firm toward the hardened, and kind

OUR CANDIDATES.
Some Facts As to the Records
of Garfield and Hancock.
As all the papers are dealing in stories for and against the characters of Messrs. Garfield and Hancock, the rival candidates for the Presidency, and seem to take delight in making public all matters pertaining to their lives, THE CRITIC presents the following:

GARFIELD'S RECORD.
At 14 he was at work at a carpenter's bench.
At 16 he was a boatman on the Ohio Canal.
At 18 he was studying in the Chester, Ohio, Seminary.
At 21 he was teaching in one of Ohio's common schools, pushing forward with his own studies at the same time.
At 23 he entered Williams College.
At 26 he graduated from Williams with the highest honors of his class.
At 27 he was tutor at Hiram College, Ohio.
At 28 he was principal of Hiram College.
At 29 he was a member of the Ohio Senate--the youngest member of that body.
At 30 he was colonel of the Forty-second Ohio regiment.
At 31 he was placed in command of a brigade, routed the rebels under Humphrey Marshall, helped General Baell in his fight at Pittsburg Landing, played a prominent part in the siege of Corinth and in the important movement along the Memphis and Charleston railroad.
At 32 he was appointed chief of staff of the Army of the Cumberland, participated in the campaign in Middle Tennessee and in the notable battle of Chickamauga, and was promoted to the rank of major-general.
At 33 he was in Congress, the successor of Joshua R. Giddings.
At 45, having been continuously in Congress since he was 33, he was elected to the United States Senate.
At 49 he was nominated for the presidency of the United States.

HANCOCK'S RECORD.
THE CRITIC has several times published this gallant officer's record, but some points about his record at West Point were omitted. General Hancock did not stand very high at West Point. He stood No. 18 in the class of 1844, which was only composed of twenty-five cadets. The following is the list of this class in the order in which its members graduated: Wm. J. Peck, Joseph H. Whitteley, Samuel Gill, Daniel M. Frost, Asher R. Eldy, Francis J. Thomas, Alfred Pleasanton, Thos. J. Cora, Augustus Cook, Joan Y. Bicknell, Simon R. Buckner, John Trevitt, Rankin Dilworth, Erasmus B. Strong, Wm. T. Barwell, Wm. Read, James S. Woods, Winfield S. Hancock, James M. Henry, Alex. Haynes, George Walnwright, Henry B. Schroeder, Joseph P. Smith, John J. C. Bibb, George W. Hawkins. General Grant did not, as has been erroneously stated, belong to General Hancock's class. The ex-President was No. 21 of the class of '43. General McClellan was No. 2 in the class of 1846.

Amusements, &c.
Theatre Comique.--This week patrons of the Comique will be entertained by a series of thoroughly interesting and amusing performances, comprising music, variety, minstrelsy and the drama, as delineated by the monster combination under the management of Kelly and Collier. Go early and get a front seat. Matinees to-morrow and Friday.
Redpath Picnic.--A grand time is promised all who attend the James Redpath Irish monster picnic, which takes place to-morrow night at the Schuetzen Park. This is one more and the last appeal to assist the Irish sufferers, and the public should be prompt in responding.

Pete Champetre.--This afternoon and evening the Union Fraternelle de Langue Francaise will conduct its first grand fete champetre at the Schuetzen Park. Music by the full Marine band, dancing, shooting and other pleasant pastimes are among the attractions announced.

A Pleasant Excursion.--The excursion to Blackiston Island yesterday on the Lady of the Lake, under the management of Mr. John W. Bolee, was heartily enjoyed by those who went along, and gave such eminent satisfaction that it is hoped that it will be soon repeated.

Wm. Cune, a constable of Hounia, Louisiana, while attempting to make an arrest on the Darius plantation, on Wednesday, was shot and killed by Henry Patterson, a colored man, for whom he had a warrant.

In delivering the baccalaureate sermon at Yale College yesterday, President Porter discussed the conflict between science and faith, and upheld the truths of the Christian religion, and Rev. Dr. Dashiell took up the same subject at St. John's College.

FREE BATHS.
WASHINGTON, St. John's Day.
(Thermometer 90 in shade.)
DEAR CRITIC: This is a good time for some rich Washingtonian who has long been earning his millions and purgatorial fire simultaneously, to provide himself a finger-tip of water in advance. Let him now lead his poor brother Lazarus the water for a free bath. Lazarus has no bath room; perhaps, no sort of room of his own; and no money for the public baths or the natatorium. O, Dives! What a chance for you to invest. Hear this story of "returns." Once the Wandering Jew, in his northern tour, desecrated a red-haired man joyfully reclining upon an iceberg. It was the traitor Judas, "hot from Tarrarus."

"How earnest thou liether?" asked the far-wandering Jew.
"Once in all my evil life I did one good deed. I cast my cloak over a shivering leper. For that I am permitted to come up one day in every year out of the pit of fire and rest upon this iceberg."

CINCINNATI, June 28.--At Kikhart, Ind., Geo. Elliott, a fast young man, went to the home of his affianced, Miss Mamie Darcie, locked himself in the room with her and shot her three times, and then shot himself. The door was broken open and Elliott found dead. Miss Darcie lived only 30 minutes.

Why Sugar has Taken a Rise.
By National Associated Press.

New York, June 28.--Some of the largest sugar refiners of this city, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, a few weeks ago proposed to enter into a combination to keep up the prices of refined sugars. Several refiners have refused to sign the agreement, but it is thought that when some modifications are made it will be less objectionable, and that then the combination will be formed. No modifications will be made until it is certain the present effort will not succeed. The proposed measure has already had the effect of advancing the price of sugar 1 1/2 cents above that of last year, and it is said that it will be largely in excess of last year.
